

The Class of 1975 is proud to sponsor the publication of CONTRAILS for the Class of 2020. This is possible through the generous donations of our classmates who have fully embraced the “service before self” concept as a way of life. We are here to serve you!

The CONTRAILS handbook you hold in your hands will likely be with you for life.

Most of our graduates still proudly display their copy on a bookshelf in their home years after using it as Fourth Classmen. Use of the booklet during your Fourth Class year is part of a tradition that goes back to 1955. It is part of The Long Blue Line that connects us all in a way that is rarely found in the civilian world. The use of this handbook constitutes the core of your training as Fourth Classmen – the development of self-discipline and attention to detail.

The Class of 1975 offers you best wishes for success: from your first days at the Academy, to your service as officers in the Air Force, and beyond. Your experience as a cadet will pay huge dividends in pride, professionalism, and personal growth. Give your best during your days at the Academy and, for the rest of your life, it will come naturally. Now, go ace that first knowledge quiz!
