BUFFOLAS BY BETTY*

Mrs. Roger Boyd, wife of the Director of Cadet Chapel Music, is a humorist of note. Her career as a comic began with her birth in Yonkers, N.Y. and developed when her family moved to Brooklyn and she met Roger. Here are some of her favorites.

A former Congressman told of a bishop who advised a politician to go out into the rain and lift his head heavenward. "It will bring a revelation to you." Next day the politician reported, "I followed your advice and no revelation came. The water poured down my neck, and I felt like a fool."
"Well," said the bishop, "isn't that quite a revelation for the first try?"

The Sunday School teacher was describing how Lot's wife looked back and turned into a pillar of salt, when little Jimmy interrupted "My mother looked back once while she was driving," he announced triumphantly, "and she turned into a telephone pole!"

A movie fan, when asked if he was going to boycott "Cleopatra" on moral grounds, said, "Certainly not! Let him who is without sin stone the cast first!"

"I wish I had enough money to buy an elephant."
"What on earth do you need an elephant for?"
"I don't. I just need the money."
(On second thought, scratch this.)

Dr. Otis Moore watched a very little girl pull a very big weed from her garden. "You must be pretty strong to pull out such a big weed," he remarked.
"Yes," agreed the youngster, "Don't forget that the whole world was pulling on the other side." (Not funny)

Dick Cavett, appearing on the "Tonight Show," explained why he had grown sideburns. "They're a mild protest--sort of like boiling your draft card."

Fortune-teller, staring gloomily at crystal ball, to patron. "I'm afraid I'll have to ask you to pay me in advance."

Imperfect past may make your future tense.

A dialogue these days is when both sides have a bullhorn and use it at the same time.

JEANE DIXON TO SPEAK HERE! Explains Psychic Powers As Due To Her Reincarnation. Will Lead CADET Ecumenical Discussion

Jeane Dixon

The phenomenal Jeane Dixon, who predicted the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, will lead the discussion group of combined Protestant and Catholic cadets on Monday, 14 February in Arnold Hall. The program of the evening begins at 1800 with pizza served in the Cockpit Lounge and then moves to the auditorium for Mrs. Dixon's presentation of "Prophecy and Religious Faith." Mrs. Dixon resides with her husband, James, in Washington, DC. Displaying a psychic gift at an early age, Jeane has continued to astound the world with her uncanny predictions of coming world events. The first story about Mrs. Dixon, "A Gift of Prophecy" sold five million copies. Her new books are "Reincarnation And Prayers To Live By" and "Jeane Dixon-- My Life And Prophecies." Mrs. Dixon has received many international awards for her dedicated work with children. Her daily column is carried by over 300 newspapers in the United States and abroad. We look forward to an exciting evening with Jeane Dixon.

AND EAT AND EAT

FATHER ROMAN KAISER, at work as usual.

Fully recovered from stab wounds administered by, as yet, an un-named assailant, when being presented with his last Commendation Medal, Father Kaiser was the picture of joy and good muscle tonus, when he was interviewed by your reporter from GOP.

Smiling benignly, as your reporter rolled on the floor howling with pain, after receiving a sincere and enthusiastic handshake from this mass of muscle, Fr. Kaiser sat behind his desk and answered my questions. If his answers at times are unclear, it is because it was difficult for me to take notes while crying, rolling around on the floor, and taking notes with a mangled hand.

"I don't deserve this honor," he said in his deep and musical baritone, "I don't deserve it at all." When I agreed, he smiled in a kindly fashion, rose from behind his desk, came over to me, and gently squeezed my head, and said, "what did you say?" I shouted, "You deserve the award! You deserve it!" "I do not," he said, and left the room.

I'm a great fan of yours, God

"My God! Are you really going to put all that in your mouth?"

"I know its ridiculous, but I feel some one is just waiting for the chance to really squash me."

"Did you ever hear such stuff? This guy is great?"

"Get the devil out of here you little bums, or I'll make you dress up like this for noon formations."

"If I put enough salt on this guck, maybe it will hide the taste."

"You're kidding! No one would name anybody Shadrack Meshack Lockridge!"

"So you're Albie Pearson! Boy! You don't know how thrilled I am to meet you!"
