

124.6.63A
Presenting...

an ideal location for the

United States Air Force Academy

Where study reaches peak efficiency
due to fine climate and surroundings . . .

Colorado Springs

COLORADO

C
O
P
Y

THE COLORADO SPRINGS
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
COLORADO SPRINGS, COLORADO

June 25, 1949

Honorable W. Stuart Symington
Secretary of the Air Force
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

Transmitted herewith is a brief presenting Colorado Springs, Colorado, as an ideal location for the proposed United States Airforce Academy.

Several substantial reasons are advanced in this brief, salient among them being geographical location and an atmosphere of fine cultural and living advantages in a city not too small neither too large. Most important, however, is an all-year-around climate conducive to peak efficiency in academic work.

Over and beyond this brief we stand ready to furnish any additional information which you or your associates might request and we would respectfully welcome the personal inspection of yourself and any committee which you appoint to investigate this location.

Respectfully yours,

Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce

J. Douglas Crouch, Chairman
Military Affairs

JDC:jd

