ACADEMY SOLVES GAS

by MSgt. Bill Thomas

FINAL ADJUSTMENT — Sergeant Cyr makes a final adjustment on his bike before making a trip. Cyr, a noncommissioned officer stationed at the Academy, is an avid bicycle enthusiast.

New York City in the summer is hot and humid. People exist by fighting pollution, traffic and the hurry-up life style that the big city offers.

Everyone except Technical Sergeant Al Cyr, 34, Brooklyn, N.Y.

"I guess you can say it all started when I was ten and got tired of the lazy, hot days and hanging around the neighborhood. I started to ride my bike longer distances and get away from the city," the lanky sergeant recalled. "After months and months of traveling I really got used to taking extended bike trips. I got to enjoy something I never knew before. I think that was when I fell in love with the sport of cycling."

Now an Air Force noncommissioned officer assigned here, Cyr cultivated his love of cycling into a family sport, a business enterprise and a way to a healthy life.

When he was 15, Cyr made a trip that would scare the most avid outdoorsman. With $3 in his pocket the daring teen-ager left New York City early one sticky July morning on a trip that would cover 3,800 miles.

"People ask me what made me take such a dangerous trip," Cyr laughed. "To me it wasn't dangerous. I just wanted to get away and see places I hadn't seen. The only problem I had was in Canada convincing a black bear that I was his friend. After a few hours of out-maneuvering I managed to lose him."

His trip took him from New York up to the Hudson Bay area of Canada. He left in July and returned in September to attend his sophomore year at Brooklyn Technical High. Cyr's bike was not of the popular 10-speed variety that he and others ride today, but of the old fat tire variety.

"As far as I'm concerned, taking a bike ride is the healthiest and most rewarding exercise

EASY SET UP — Cyr and his wife Carolyn show how easy it is to set up a shelter with just a poncho and his bike. The Cyr family is interested in riding and consider it a family sport.

SERGEANT PROBLEM

OFF ON A TRIP—Cyr takes off on a usual weekend cycling trip. His bike is loaded down with all the necessities that Cyr will need on the outing.

that any person can do. By riding you are able to take life a little at a time and fully enjoy it. My wife and three children all ride, and we look forward to riding each evening.”

“Al’s love for nature and bikes has brought our family closer together,” smiled Cyr’s wife, Carolyn. “It is so invigorating to just hop on the bike and feel the wind in your face. Riding is the best way to travel if you’re not in a hurry. You go slow enough to appreciate the surroundings you miss while speeding in a car.”

Cyr not only rides his cycle, he also designs and builds them. His bike, a 10-speed, was built specifically for his height and weight.

“My first introduction to a multi-speed bike was in 1962 when I bought a three-speed. I liked it so much that I wanted to have one built I could ride more comfortably. I sat down and drew up the plans for one and sent to England to have the frame built. The crank, made from a light alloy, was designed after the frame came back. I had a commercial company cut the blanks and I finished up the rest. I’d say that the bike is worth about $700.”

In 1962 Cyr opened his own bike repair shop in Columbia, Mo., while stationed there. “It was interesting to go into business for the first time. I learned an awful lot about small business practices.

“Many people ask me for advice before they decide to invest in a bike. I tell them that the most important thing they should look for in a bike is comfort. If a bike is uncomfortable it will be a chore for them to get out and ride. Riding should be a fun thing. For the mountains I urge people to buy a multi-speed outfit, preferably a 10-speed. If they are going to ride in the wide-open spaces, a three-speed or single speed will do. Comfort and enjoyment is the key to bike riding.”

Today's Game | AIR FORCE vs PENN STATE

By HAL BATEMAN
Air Force Sports Information Director

One of the nation's great football powers will be making its first visit to Falcon Stadium today and we would like to give them a big Western "hello."

Greetings are also due to the Air Force Academy graduates who are here for Homecoming and greetings are also due to the members of the American Broadcasting Company television crew who are with us today for the regional telecast to various sections of the country.

Although it is still relatively early in the college football season, both Air Force and Penn State will be appearing on the tube for the second time this fall.

Three weeks ago, Penn State defeated Stanford, 20-6, in a nationally-televised game while two weeks ago Air Force downed Oregon, 24-17, in a regionally-televised contest at Falcon Stadium.

The Nittany Lions from Penn State bring impressive credentials into today's contest, including a perfect 3-0 mark and a high national ranking. Under head coach Joe Paterno, Penn State has had some of the nation's finest teams in the last five seasons, compiling records such as 11-0 in both 1968 and 1969, 7-3 in 1970, 11-1 in 1971 and 10-2 last season.

Included in that span have been four bowl games, the 1969 and 1970 Orange Bowls, and 1972 Cotton Bowl and the 1973 Sugar Bowl.

The Falcons and Penn State have met only twice previously and the Nittany Lions have won both games, 20-6 in 1962 and 16-14 in 1971, with both games at University Park.

The 1971 game was close all the way and the Nittany Lions won it on a 22-yard field goal with 11 minutes to go by Alberto Vitiello.

Several of the Falcons on this years' team well remember that game since they played in that contest, including quarterback Rich Haynie, fullback Bill Berry, split end Greg Smith and linebacker Jim Morris.

Haynie threw for two touchdowns in that game, one of them a 31-yard pass to Smith. Morris, the Falcons' defensive captain, has more than a special interest in this game since he is from Pennsylvania, hailing from Duryea.

Two Falcon athletic staff members are Penn State graduates, Captain Jim Weaver, Air Force athletic business manager, who is a 1963 graduate while Lt. Col. Karl Schwenzfeier, Falcon gymnastics coach, is a 1956 graduate and was an Olympic gymnast for the Nittany Lions.

Although short, it's been a great series and today's game figures to be another good one.

THIS IS THE ACADEMY

Location: Approximately 10 miles north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, at the base of the Rampart Range of the Rocky Mountains. The Academy site covers 18,000 acres.

Enrollment: 4,200 (approximate). Public Law 88-276 was signed by the President on 3 March 1964 authorizing an increase in strength of the Cadet Wing from 2,529 to 4,417.

Founded: Authorized 1 April 1954. The first class was received 11 July 1955. The first class was graduated in June 1959.

Colors: Silver and Blue

Nickname: Falcons

Mascot: Falcon (Mach I)

Curriculum: The U.S. Air Force Academy is neither an engineering nor a liberal arts college, but combines certain elements of both. It may be accurately described as a school of general education for professional Air Force Officers—a school which endeavors to give each cadet the knowledge and qualities of leadership required of an officer in the United States Air Force and a basis for continued development throughout a lifetime of service to his country, leading to readiness for responsibilities as a future air commander. A cadet who completes the 4-year course will graduate with a Bachelor of Science degree and a commission as a second lieutenant in the Regular Air Force.

UNITED STATES AIR FORCE ACADEMY MISSION

To provide instruction and experience to each cadet so that he graduates with the knowledge and characteristics essential to leadership and the motivation to become a career officer in the United States Air Force.

FALCON SPOTLIGHT:

STEVE HEIL

6-4, 205-pound senior safety
from Gering, Neb.

Starting safety for the Falcons this year, after lettering as a starting rover in 1972. He is tied with Ralph Buron as the second leading tackler this season, behind Jim Morris. Played 269 minutes last year and 83 as a sophomore rover. Had an outstanding season in 1972, finishing second to Morris in total tackles, intercepting three passes and recovering five fumbles, including three against Pittsburgh, an Academy record. As a sophomore, he intercepted a pass against Tulsa and returned it 37 yards for a touchdown. Carries a B average in a management major.

MEET THE FALCONS

JOE DEBES, 6-5, 238-pound junior offensive tackle from Evansville, Ind. Earned his first varsity letter last fall as a reserve defensive tackle with 41 minutes of action. Switched to offensive tackle in the fall. One of the biggest players on the squad. He is also one of the top students on the team, carrying a 3.59 cumulative average in a physics major.

RALPH BURON, 6-1, 198-pound junior linebacker from El Monte, Calif. Starting linebacker, teaming with Jim Morris at that position. Tied with safety Steve Heil for the second most tackles this year behind Morris. Recovered a fumble against New Mexico. Missed all of the 1972 season because of knee surgery. Majors in behavioral sciences.

TOM PETERSON, 5-11, 228-pound junior offensive tackle from Minneapolis, Minn. Starting right tackle this season, he earned his first varsity letter last fall as a guard, playing 87 minutes. Made the shift to tackle to take advantage of his speed and blocking. Was a member of the Falcon track team last year, competing as a hammer thrower.

STEVE HANSEN, 6-3, 238-pound senior tight end from Chadron, Neb. A two-year starter at offensive tackle, he was shifted to tight end in spring drills. The biggest Falcon tight end in history, he is an excellent blocker with good speed. Played 270 minutes in 1971 and 239 in 1972. Carries a 3.63 average in an economics major.

BOB FARR, 6-1, 175-pound junior split end from Glendale, Calif. Teams with Greg Smith to give the Falcons an excellent one-two punch at split end. Has caught only one pass this year but it went for a touchdown to beat Oregon. Has caught nine passes in his Air Force career and five have gone for touchdowns. Also played for the Falcon baseball team last spring.

AFA MARCHING BAND

The United States Air Force Academy Marching Band has been hailed as the "World's finest military marching band."

This 100-piece musical organization contains the standard band instrumentation with the addition of the Academy's Drum and Bugle Corps. This combination of band and bugles is unique in the United States today. The thrilling sound produced is a direct result of special arrangements written by the band's own arranging staff.

The Marching Band may be seen several times during the week performing at the cadet noon formation and frequently on Saturday morning as they participate in the formal dress parades of the Cadet Wing. They also appear at Academy football games and throughout the country in such national prominent functions as Presidential Inauguration Ceremonies, major Bowl Parades, pro football games and Music Educators' Conventions.

Lt. Col. Richard E. Thurston
Commander and Conductor

SMSgt. William A. Stokes
Drum Major and Supervisor

FALCONAIRES

The "Falconaires" jazz/rock ensemble, led by Senior Master Sergeant Chuck Gardner, take their name from the mascot of the United States Air Force Academy, a unit of the United States Air Force Academy Band. This organization provides today's music in its most exciting form. These 17 musicians display their unique talents in concerts and stage band clinics nationwide.

The "Falconaires" have recorded their own musical arrangements in Hollywood, California and Las Vegas, Nevada. Most of their music is written by their own arranging staff.

This stage band performs for concerts and cadet dances at the Air Force Academy as well as performing for television, radio, colleges, and high schools. They have performed with Bob Hope, Doc Severinson, Johnny Smith, Peanuts Hucko, Joni Sommers, Louie Bellson, Roy Burns, Clark Terry, and other notables too numerous to mention. Doc Severinson says, "I rate the 'Falconaires' as one of the best today."

Weather permitting, the "Falconaires" will perform several musical presentations prior to kick-off of each home game.

ACADEMY LIAISON OFFICERS

"Bring Me Men" might well be the motto of approximately 1,400 dedicated Americans whose job is to counsel candidates for the United States Air Force Academy. They are Air Force Academy Liaison Officers (LOs) who devote considerable time and energy to their assignments in schools and communities throughout the nation.

Most of the LOs are Air Force Reserve officers who perform this function for the Academy to satisfy their Reserve requirements. But their performance usually goes well beyond the requirements because of their belief and interest in the Academy mission.

Their primary aim is to seek out young men who are good high school students and tell them about the excellent opportunities awaiting those who can qualify for the Academy.

Prospecting for these gems of American youth, the LOs visit secondary and junior high schools, attend college night and career day programs, speak to civic groups, and work closely with local Air Force recruiting offices and youth groups.

After students are identified who have the potential qualifications and desire to attend the Academy, an LO provides individual counseling. This responsibility covers information on high school program planning, applications for nomination, candidate processing, the rigorous Basic Cadet Training Program, and four years of cadet education.

LOs are in contact with cadets on various occasions throughout their years at the Academy. When cadets come home on leave, LOs visit with them and may arrange guest appearances and counseling sessions for young men who are eligible to apply for the next Academy class.

Each LO spends a week on active duty at the Academy soon after he is assigned to the program. LOs are briefed by members of the Academy faculty and staff and spend time with cadets in classes and other activities.

LOs serve as escort officers for educator groups brought to the Academy during the academic year. Through this Educator Airlift Program, school administrators, teachers and counselors gain a better understanding of the Academy's mission and the type of young men who has what it takes to succeed as a cadet.

The first three words of a verse, "Bring Me Men" by the late Sam Foss, are mounted over the archway leading to the cadet parade ground of the Air Force Academy. These words characterize the type of dedicated and courageous youth the Air Force seeks as cadets. Academy Liaison Officers play a significant part in locating and informing young men desiring entry into the Academy. They counsel a majority of the candidates admitted to the Academy annually from throughout the nation. Approximately 200 Liaison Officer coordinators and deputies are attending the game today at the close of their annual conference. These officers serve as supervisors of other liaison officers located in 95 geographical areas in the United States and overseas.

Academy Liaison Officers sponsor several annual awards to outstanding cadets. Among these is the Most Valuable Athlete Award which was presented in 1973 to Orderia Mitchell. Retired Colonel Glenn Dorward, right, of Denver, former LOC of Colorado made the presentation. General Albert P. Clark, Academy superintendent, congratulated Mitchell on earning this distinctive award.

HOMECOMING '73

Many alumni of the Air Force Academy are attending today's sixth annual Homecoming game with Penn State. The weekend is packed with activities for the graduates and their ladies. Homecoming was kicked off yesterday by dinner with the Cadet Wing, followed by a pep rally. The Class of 1963 celebrated its Tenth Year Anniversary last night in Arnold Hall.

This morning alumni and the Cadet Wing participated in a Memorial Ceremony and Parade to honor the 74 graduates who have been killed in action in Southeast Asia and the 51 graduates who are currently listed as missing in action.

The Parade was followed by a Coffee and discussion panel made up of six of the 30 graduates who were prisoners of war. The panel discussion was attended by over 400 graduates and wives. All 30 former prisoners are the special guests of the Association of Graduates for Homecoming '73.

Tonight, the alumni and their ladies will attend a banquet in Mitchell Hall. The highlight of the evening's program will be the presentation of the sixth annual Jabara Award for Airmanship. The award is named in memory of Colonel James Jabara, America's first jet ace, and is presented each year to a graduate of the Academy who distinguishes himself in the field of airmanship. Previous winners of the prestigious award have been Major Donald D. Stevens, '60; Major Terry R. Jorris, '61; Lt. Karl W. Richter, '64; Captain Wayne A. Warner, '63; Captain Neil B. Crist, '66; and Major Steve Ritchie, '64. The 1973 Jabara Award will be presented tonight to Captain Dale E. Stovall, Class of 1967. Thirty eight graduates were nominated for this year's award.

Captain Stovall led a flight of HH-53 helicopters on the deepest rescue mission ever into North Vietnam to pick up a downed U.S. Air Force airman. His determination to rescue a fellow American airman was unwavering as he repeatedly and successfully penetrated extremely hostile and heavily defended areas of North Vietnam. The rescue took place within sight of Yen Bai Airfield, one of the most active MIG aircraft bases in the North. The downed aircrew member, Captain Roger C. Locher, had been evading the North Vietnamese for 22 days prior to his successful rescue by Captain Stovall on June 2, 1972.

An outstanding athlete while at the Academy, Captain Stovall placed third in the 440-yard run at the NCAA Indoor Track Championships in 1966. He formally held the Cadet indoor record for both the 600 and 880 runs. The 1966 mile relay team, of which Stovall was a member, still holds the Academy standard in that event.

Homecoming Queen

Four beautiful young ladies have been looking forward to the Air Force-Penn State football game more than the football team.

During halftime activities today, one of the four young ladies will be crowned as the 1973 Air Force Academy Homecoming Queen.

Competing for the honor are Wendy H. Golas, 17, Sanwood, N.J.; Patti L. Sneddon, 18, Pueblo, Colo.; Nancy M. McNearney, 19, St. Louis, Mo.; and Cynthia A. Suttner, 21, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Miss Golas will be representing 1st Group. She is a 5' 6" blond who is attending Roanoke College in Virginia. The pert freshman plans to major in psychology. In her spare time she enjoys swimming and all types of sports.

Second Group's choice for Homecoming Queen is an 18-year-old blond from Pueblo, Miss Sneddon is a freshman attending Southern Colorado State College. Patti plans to major in sociology and in her leisure hours she enjoys camping, horseback riding and skiing.

A St. Louis native is the pick for 3rd Group. Nancy McNearney is a sophomore attending Purdue and hopes to one day be a famous fashion designer. The 19-year-old coed enjoys sewing and music.

Last, but certainly not least, is Cynthia Suttner who calls Colorado Springs her home. Originally from La Grange, Ill., the 21-year-old beauty is currently attending Midwest Business College. She actively enjoys swimming, guitar, skiing and cycling.

All four girls were finalists from other competition within the Cadet Wing. The girls were selected as candidates from within each respective Cadet Group. A committee made up of cadets selected the four lucky finalists.

FALCON STADIUM

Stadium Information

LOST AND FOUND

If you lose an article while attending a game at Falcon Stadium, check at the main ticket office in the east building or the main concessions office on the top tier of the west side. If you find an article in the stadium area, please turn it in to any of the concession stands, the main ticket office or the main concessions office.

FIRST AID

Trained medical personnel are in attendance at all Air Force home games. In case of any emergency, report it immediately to the head usher in your portal. There are two first aid rooms and two first aid stations located in Falcon Stadium. The rooms are located in the east side building and on the third tier of the west side, directly under the press box. The stations are located off the walkways of the first and second tiers in the vicinity of the 50-yard line.

EMERGENCY CALLS

Individuals expecting emergency calls should file their portal section, row and seat number with the command post, located in the east side building. Office number is 472-1151. A call number will then be issued. No special announcements are made over the public address system except in cases of gravest emergency. Please do not request this service needlessly.

STADIUM FACTS

For natural beauty, Falcon Stadium is hard to surpass. Built into the base of the Rampart Range mountains, the modern facility also is one of the most functional sports structures in the country.

The concrete structure, built in a natural bowl, has 49,068 permanent seats and can hold up to 50,000 spectators with additional temporary bleachers. There is one level of seats on the east side and three tiers of seats on the west, each serviced by two concession stands and restroom areas. All seats are within easy walking distance of the 9,610-vehicle capacity parking lot which surrounds the stadium on three sides.

The stadium is easily accessible from divided U. S. Interstate 25 and the Academy's Stadium Boulevard which leads directly to the parking lot. There is also ample parking space for 300 commercial busses, and a rail siding is located just a few hundred yards from the bowl for special trains.

Air Force Academy Songs and Yells

GO FALCONS

(Fight Song)
 Words by Cadet R. L. Counts
 Melody by Cadet J. C. Vance Arrangement by
 A/1c H. Merrick, USAFA Band
 Rev up and go Falcons to the fight,
 For our spirit is high
 Gear up and go Falcons surge ahead
 On the field as in the sky;
 For you will see silver and blue,
 Reign supreme upon the field;
 We will prove that we can't be beaten,
 For the Falcons never yield.

THE BIG YELL

(Lots of noise, building up)
FIGHT!
FIGHT!
 (Quiet, raise hat with right hand.)

THE AIR FORCE SONG

Off we go, into the wild blue yonder
 Climbing high into the sun;
 Here they come zooming to meet our thunder,
 At 'em boys, give 'er the gun!
 Down we dive spouting our flame from under,
 Off with one hell-uv-a-roar!
 We live in fame or go down in flame!
 Nothing'll stop the U. S. Air Force!

After three hours in hard wooden seats, spilled mustard and a roaring crowd, recuperate in Monte Carlo.

A football stadium is a great place to spend a Saturday afternoon in autumn. But, after the game, you're ready for some peace and quiet, some comfort and some elegance.

That's why the Monte Carlo is a great place to spend a Saturday evening in autumn.

Monte Carlo's radial-tuned suspension is designed to let you enjoy the advantages of its steel-belted radial ply tires.

The result is the kind of confident handling and comfortable ride you might expect from a fine personal luxury car.

Power disc/drum brakes and variable-ratio power steering are standard, of course. Because it just wouldn't be a Monte Carlo without them.

When you're ready to leave the roaring crowd behind, get behind the wheel of a 1974 Monte Carlo by Chevrolet.
